We will not be liable for any losses, costs, actions, proceedings, claims or demands which may be incurred by any Client or the Financial Adviser Firm or Financial Adviser arising directly or indirectly from our having acted in good faith pursuant to the Instructions received from the Financial Adviser Firm or Authorised User in relation to Adviser Charges, except to the extent directly caused by our negligence.

For the avoidance of doubt, we will not accept instructions from the Financial Adviser in relation to payments for and on behalf of a Client and no payments deducted from a Client's Online Accounts will be made to the Financial Adviser Firm unless and until our anti money laundering processes in respect of that Client have been completed.

The Adviser Charges payable on behalf of the Client may, as the Client specifies, also consist of an initial charge and ad hoc charges.

Ongoing Adviser Charges are accrued daily and can be facilitated on a monthly, quarterly, annually or on request basis (the Relevant Date) and payable in arrears within thirty (30) days following the calculation. If no Mutual Funds are available for disinvestment, the payment of the Adviser Charge will fail. However, when in receipt of subsequent contributions from the Client or prior to paying the proceeds of sale of any further Assets within the Client's Online Account, we will deduct the amount equal to the Adviser Charges owing by the Client to the Financial Adviser Firm from the subsequent contribution or the proceeds of sale, and pay this amount to the Financial Adviser Firm.

Any underpayment in the amount of Adviser Charges facilitated via us to the Financial Adviser Firm may be rectified only if the Financial Adviser Firm give us written notice of the alleged error within twenty (20) Business Days of the Financial Adviser Firm receiving such payments.
